Outsourcing Partner*

Since 2009

Yukti Solutions Private Limited

- We are a software development company based in New Delhi, India; actively operating in the European market for over 12 years.
- We offer outsourcing IT services that include – dedicated development teams, product development, project management, system analysts, quality assurance, and other technical profiles.
- Our competencies include SaaS solutions, Product development, Web Applications / APIs, Mobile Apps, Desktop based applications, Machine Learning and IoT based Cloud solutions.
- We have successfully worked on projects for different industry segments that include Network Security, Hospitality, Risk Management, Document Management, Education, Machine Learning, and Industrial Automation.

Primary benefits

- Your project is developed by experienced developers and examined by the quality assurance team for stable performance; thereby shortening the time for development verification.
- Our project managers handle overall project progress and acts as a communication bridge for you. They also guide the team on technical aspects and makes sure everything's done before the deadline, letting you focus entirely on sales and value addition to the project.
- You pay only for the Development Services and not for Quality Assurance and Project Management activities. It's basically a pay for performance model for you.
- You get the flexibility to make changes in the capacity of the development team for balancing any project budget or timeline fluctuations. This allows you to shrink or expand the scale of your projects, or add more projects. Furthermore, this gives you the freedom to pick projects unfamiliar to your core expertise.

Primary benefits

- We take care of basic infrastructure and licensing requirements for the development, you only pay for any specific hardware or software licenses that is required for your particular solution.
- All of your project's elements such as source code, technical documentation, and intellectual property rights belong to you. We never use or disclose it with anyone, not even on our company's portfolio.
- We take care of all HR Processes and legal compliances required as per Indian law. No obligations on your part.
- We offer all these services at a competitive price, allowing you to quote your product pricing more effectively in your particular market.
- Our prices are all-inclusive, with No additional VAT (value-added tax) to be paid over the amount.

Key differentiators

- Long-term work experience on several successful projects in different industries.
- Our excellent experience with the European and US markets and our adaptability to their work culture sets us unique.
- Excellent infrastructure that supports faster development with excellent quality.
